Hear My Sound

Toot, Toot, I'm Bellevue Bound

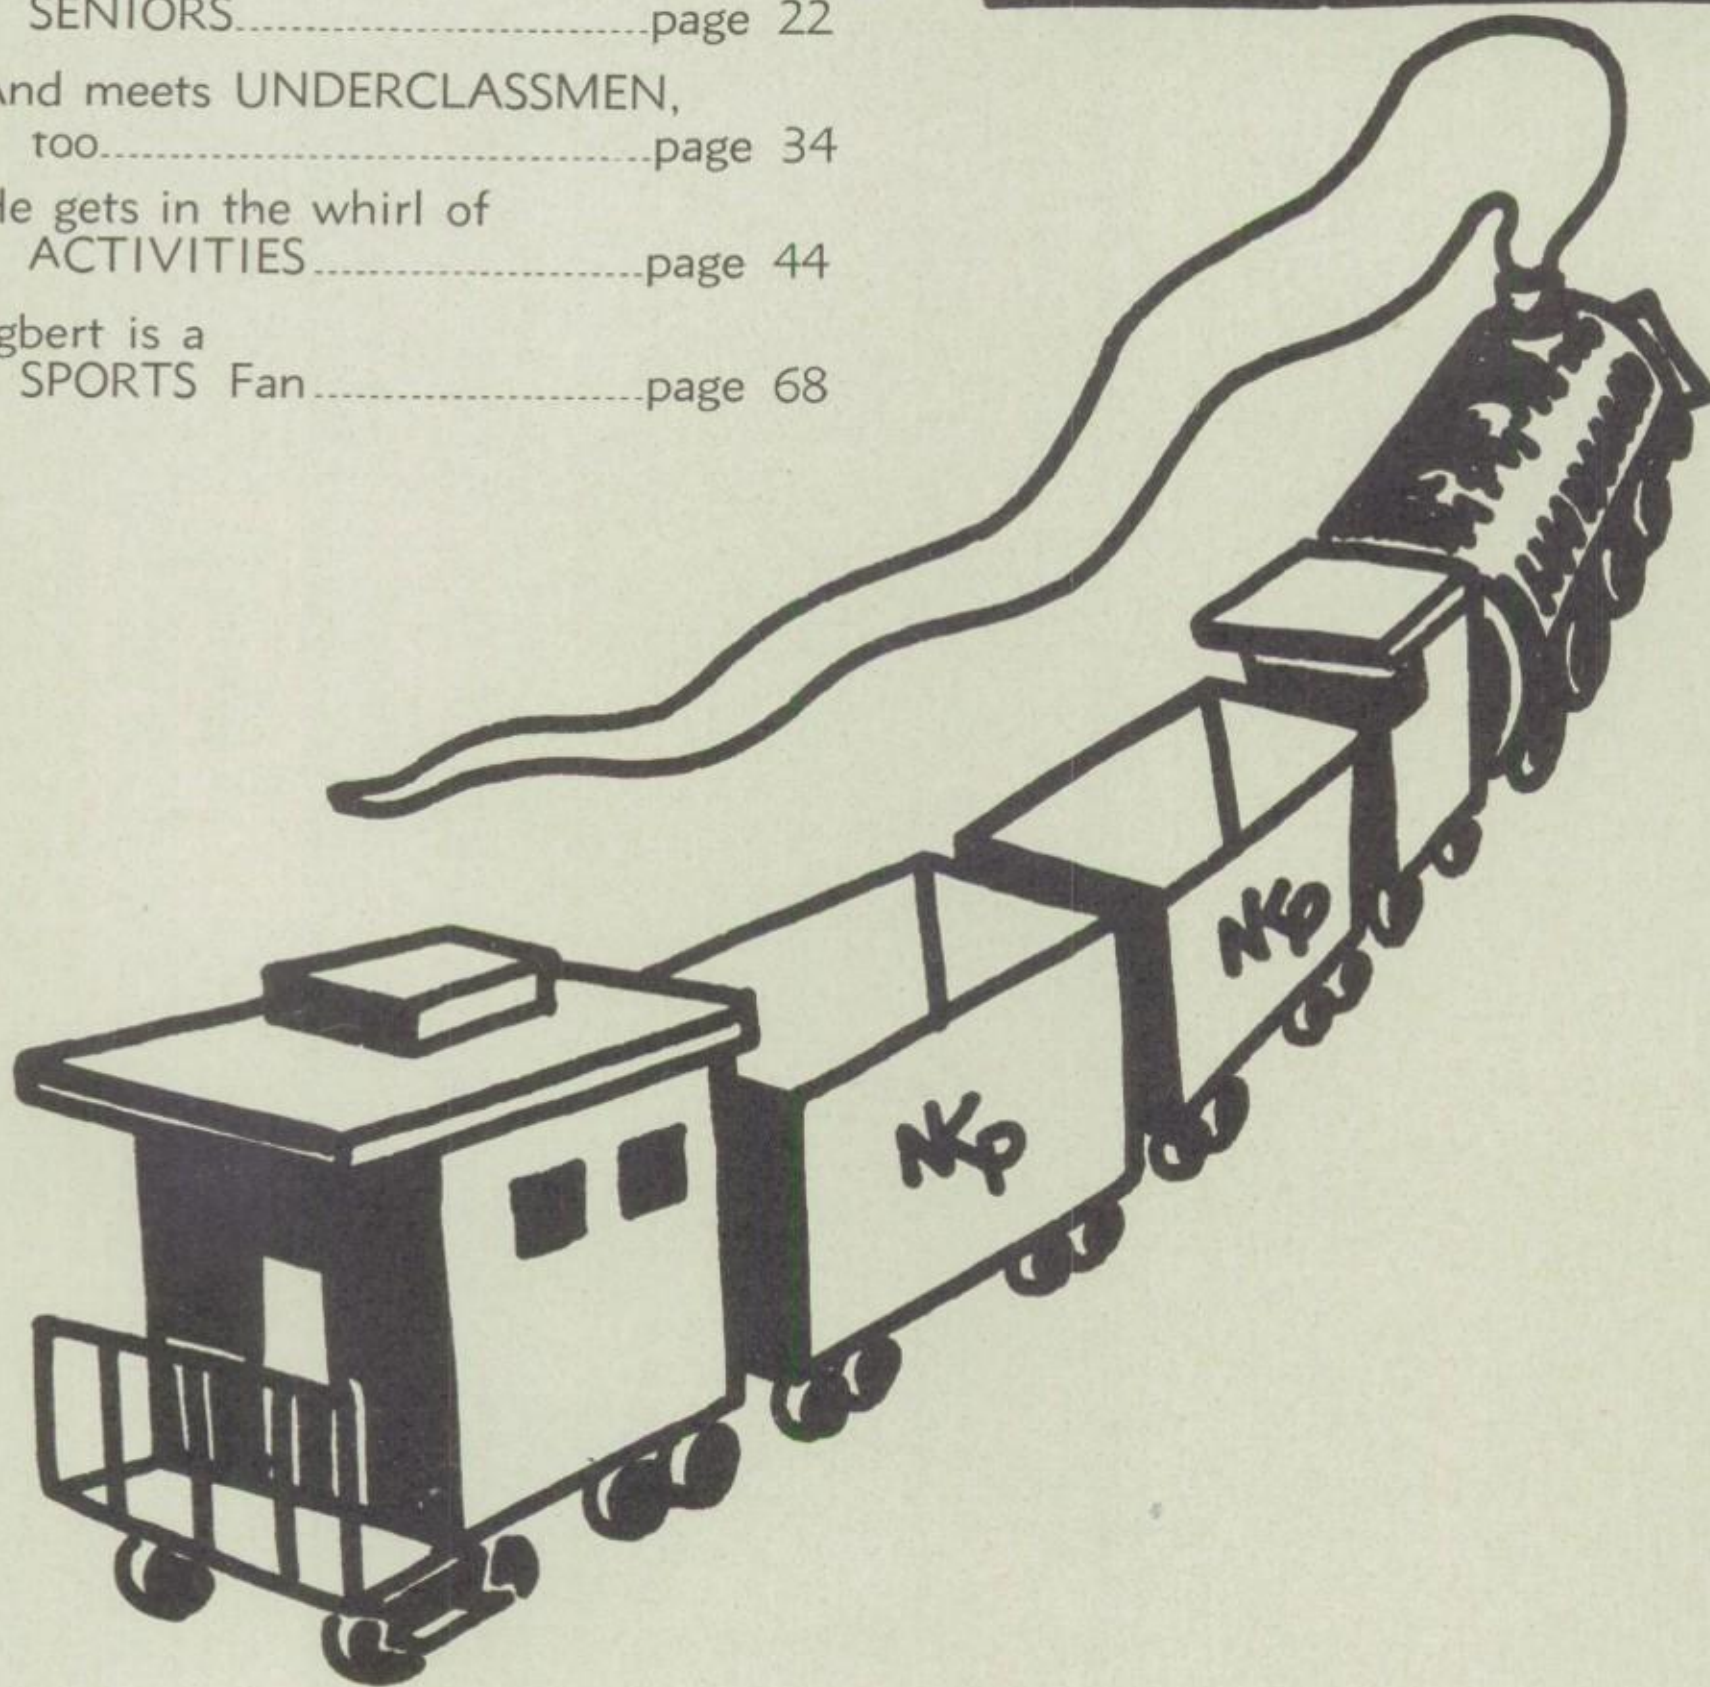

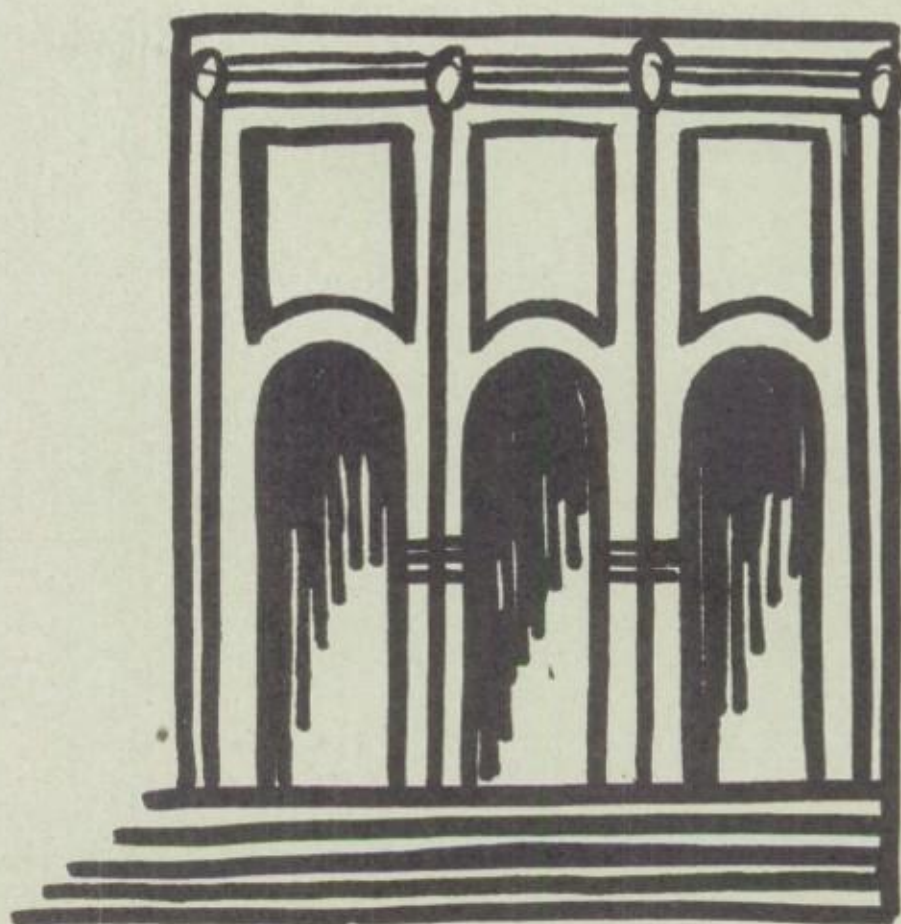

A little locomotive, Egbert Q. Engine, Esquire, weary of chugging away through the Bellevue railroad yards, one morning jolted to a stop when he noticed far above the smoke of the other engines, a tall chimney with smoke much denser than any he could make. Many more passengers seemed to be rushing toward it than had ever hurried to board him. Steaming with curiosity, he jumped his track, hissed across High and Lyme Streets, and puffed right up to the front steps of B.H.S.

But First We Pause To

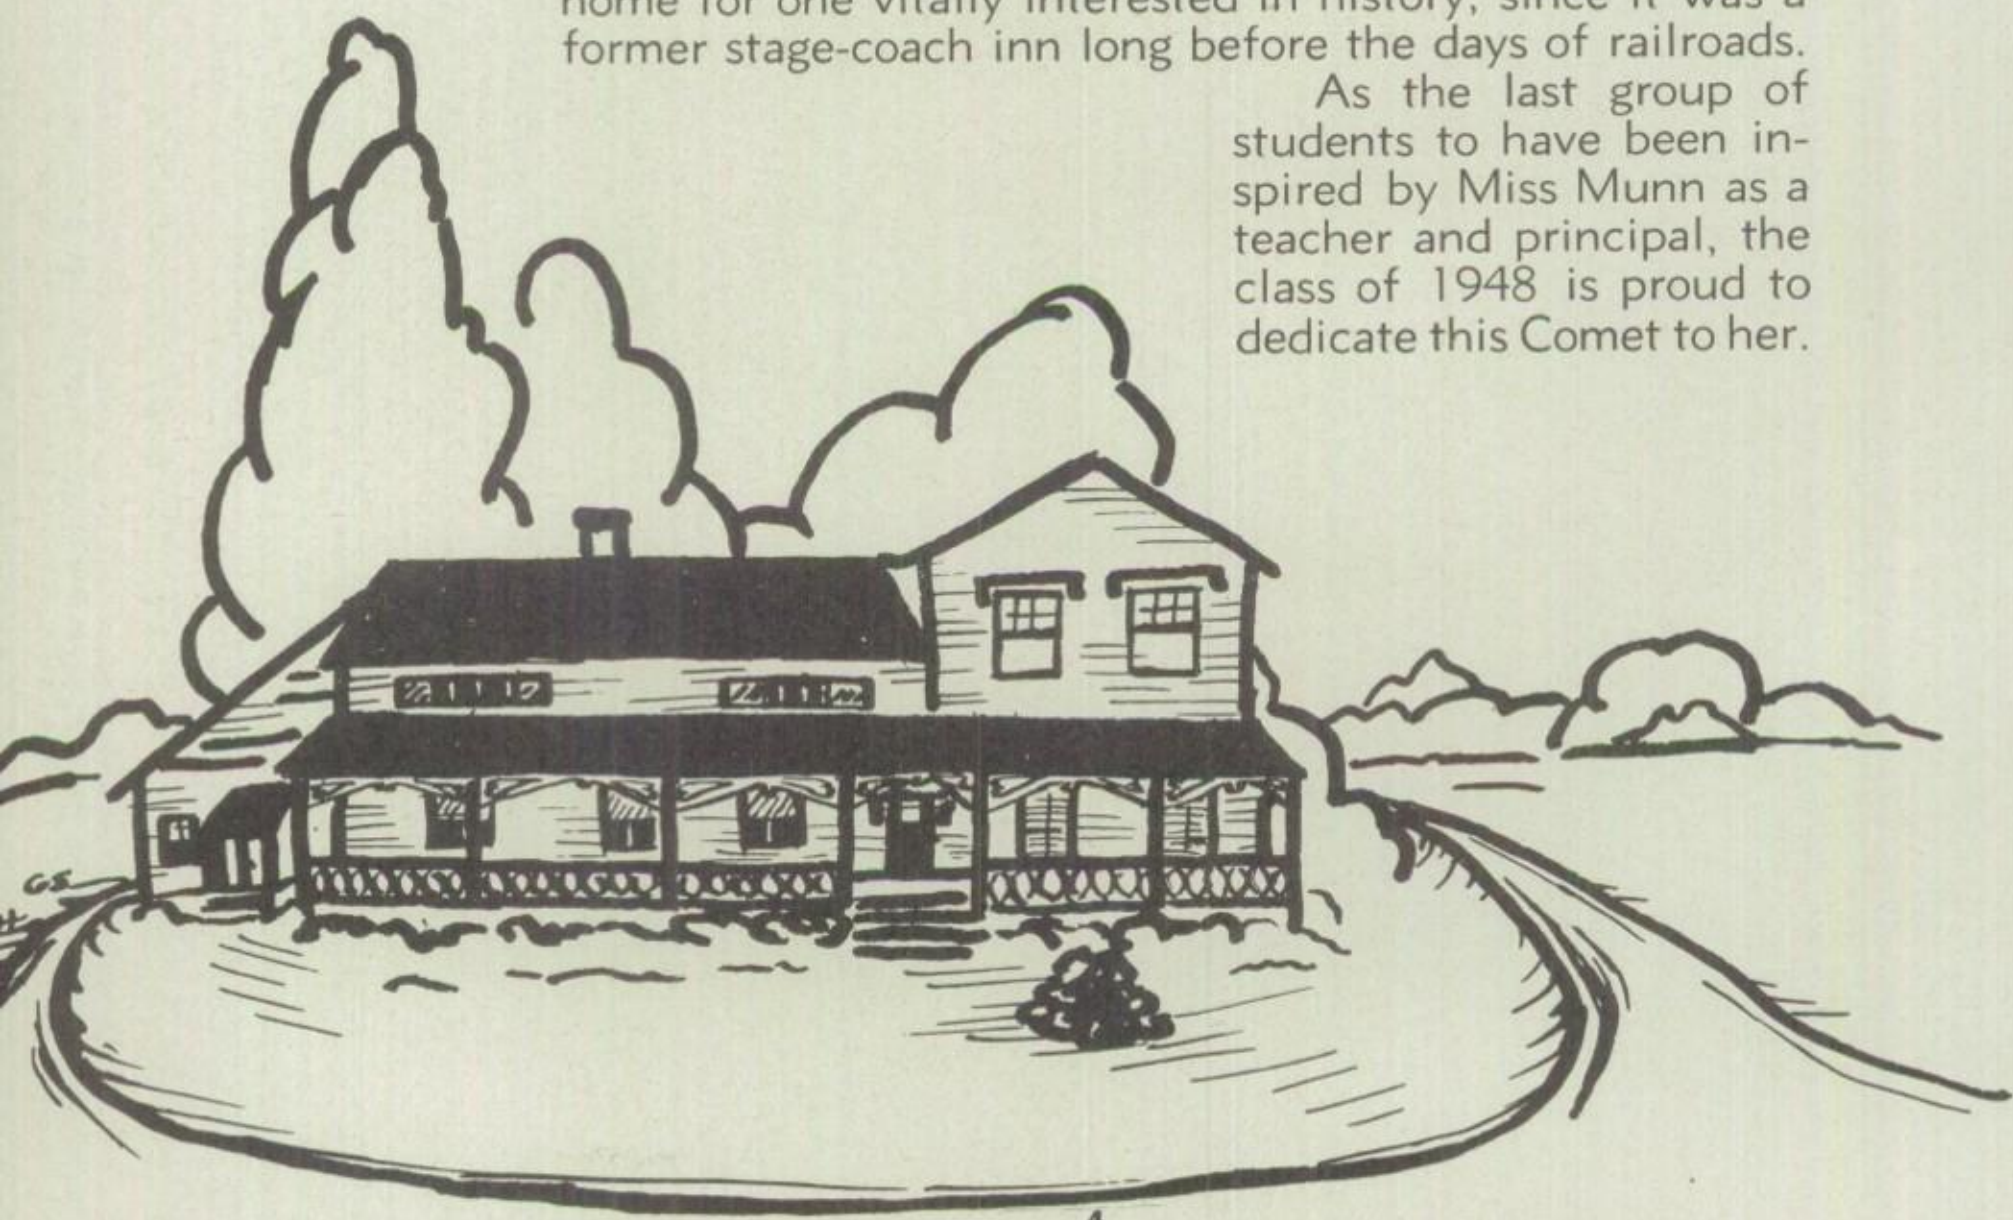

Dedicate

This Comet

Through the eyes of Miss Gertrude Munn, friend and teacher, history became vivid and exciting to more than 3,000 students in her forty-seven years of teaching. And as principal of the Junior High, she kept her school running smoothly, happily, and efficiently.

Her picturesque country home is an appropriate home for one vitally interested in history, since it was a former stage-coach inn long before the days of railroads.

As the last group of students to have been inspired by Miss Munn as a teacher and principal, the class of 1948 is proud to dedicate this Comet to her.

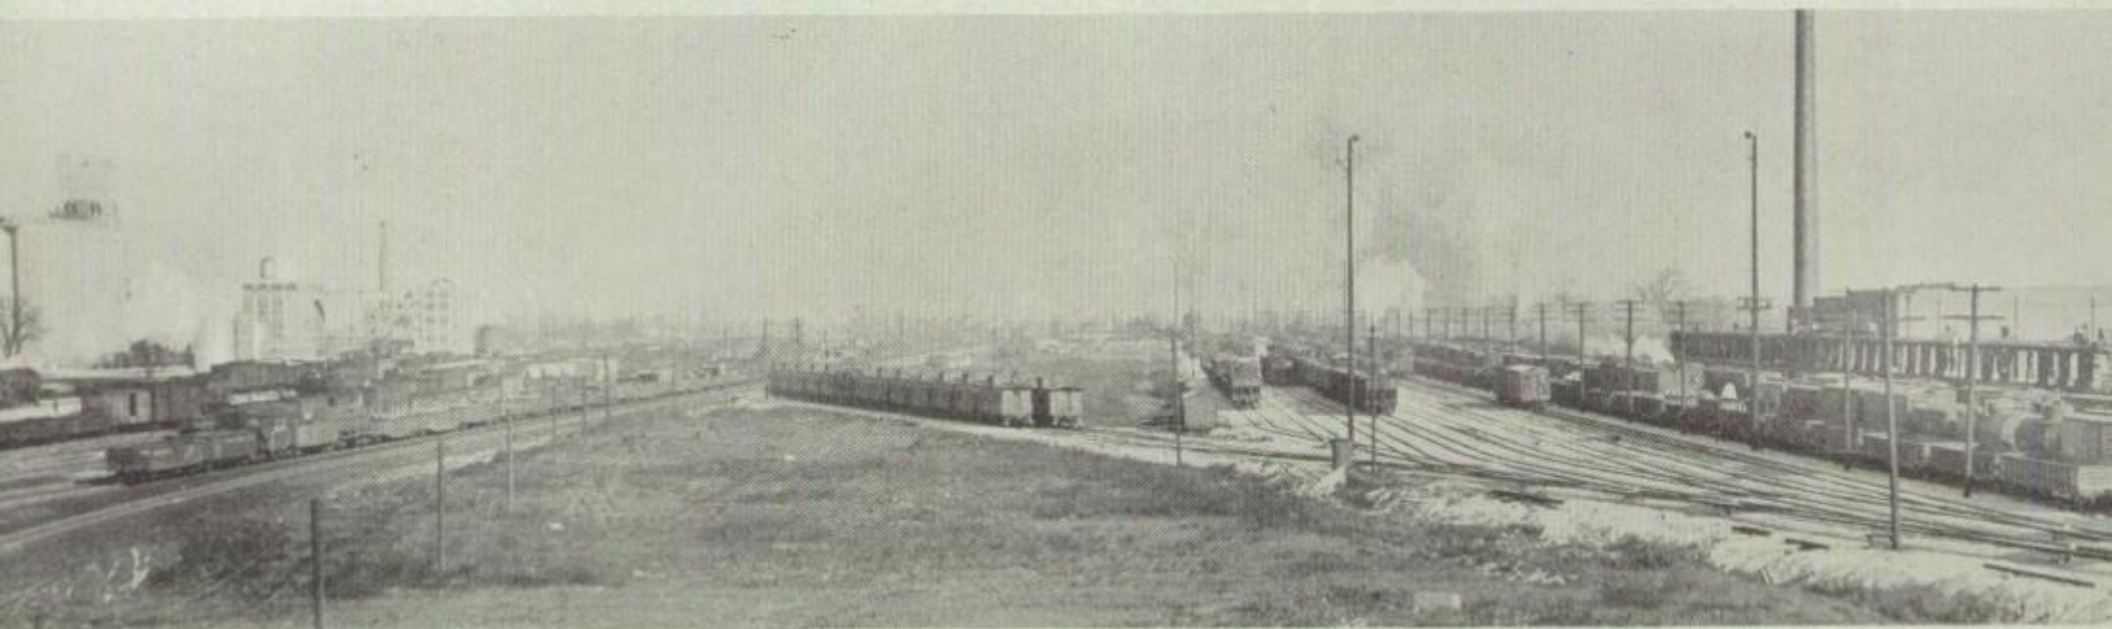

... To Miss Gertrude Munn

Railroads Make Bellevue

"Fifty-five engines and 3500 railroad cars pass through Bellevue daily," Freddy Freight boasted to Egbert.

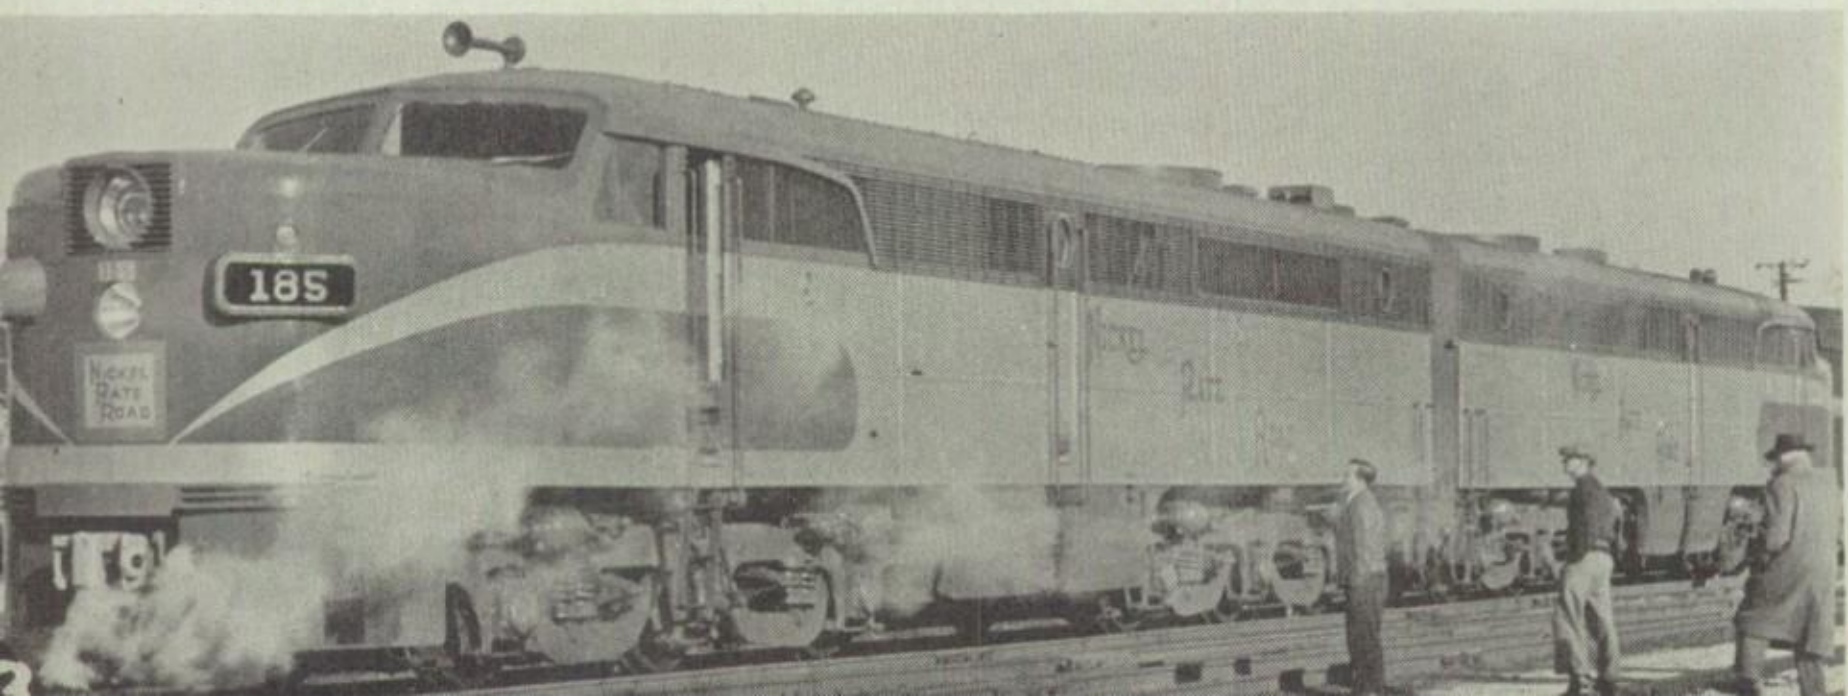

"And about one-fourth of the fathers of our class members work for the Nickel Plate Railroad," added Tom Gruss.

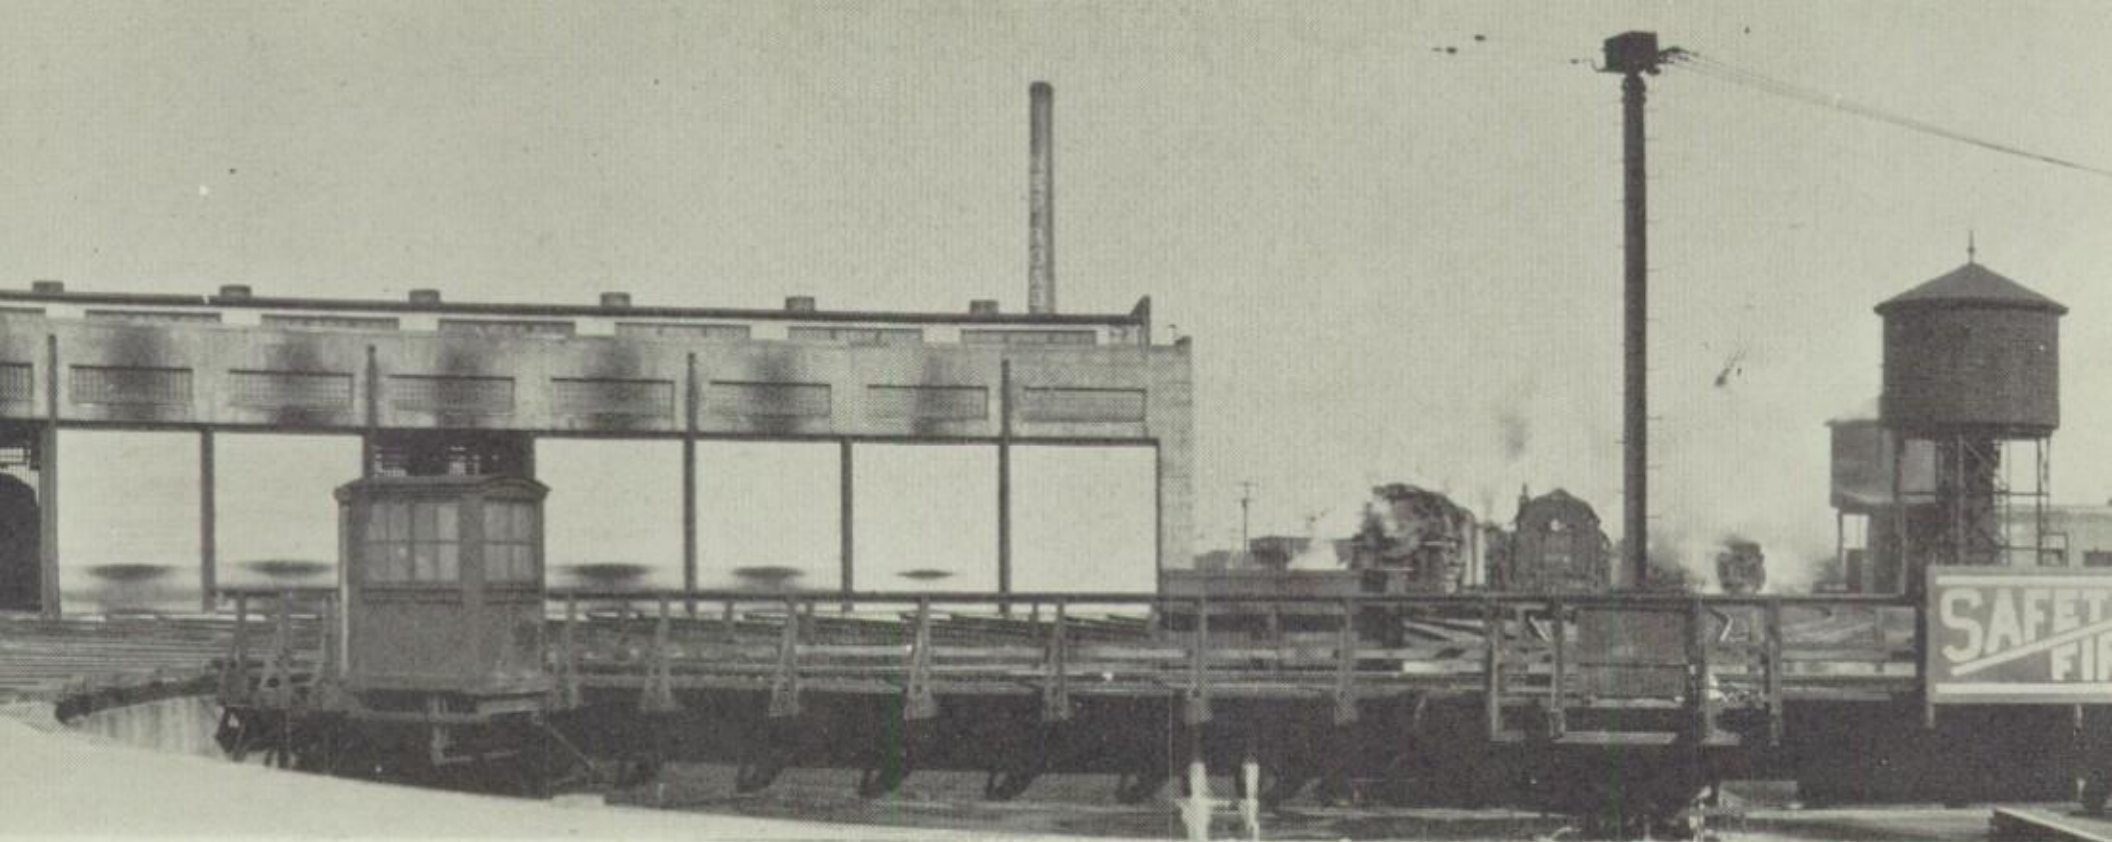

"Well, eleven of us senior boys work for the railroad ourselves!" Tony DeBlase spoke up.

All agreed that while Bellevue has many thriving industries, the Nickel Plate Railroad is one of the most important. The offices of the general superintendent of the entire railroad recently moved here into the newly-erected office building. Yards, roundhouse, and shops are extensive, since two divisions of the road meet here.

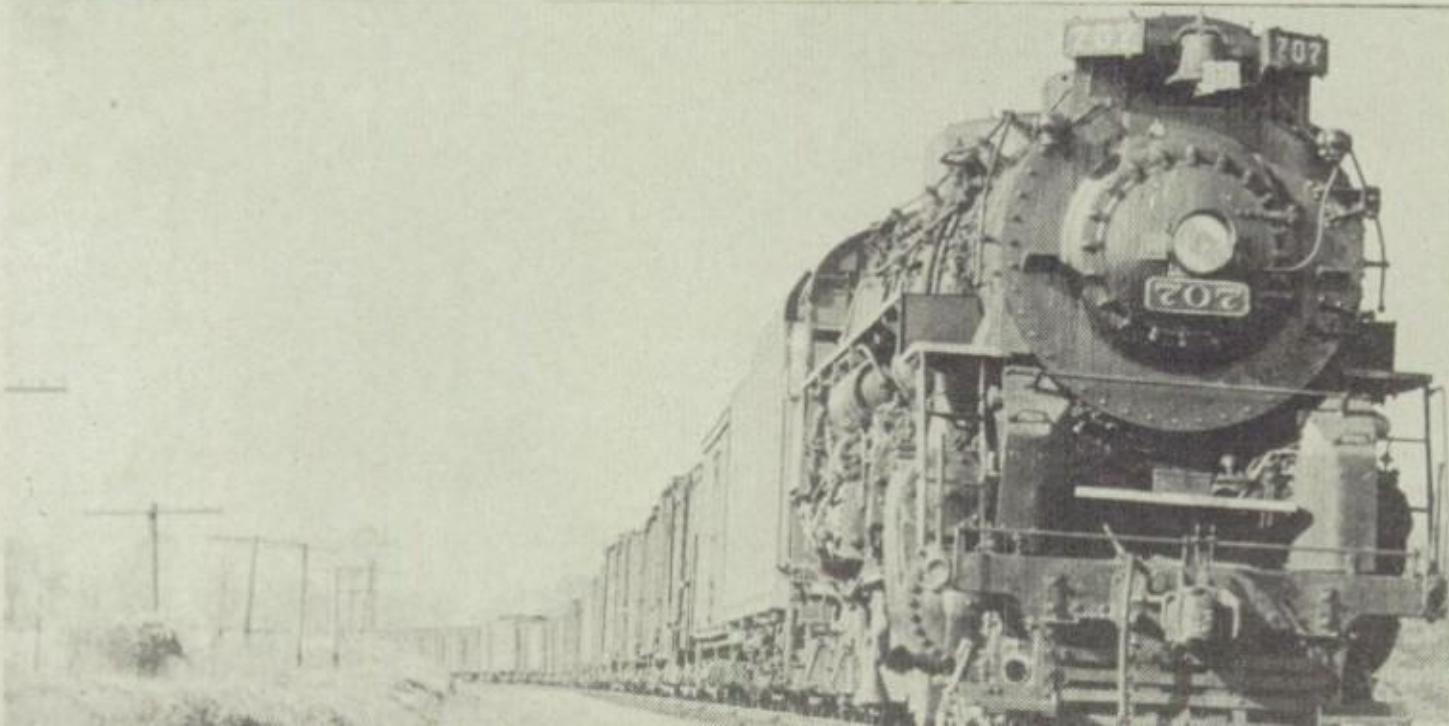

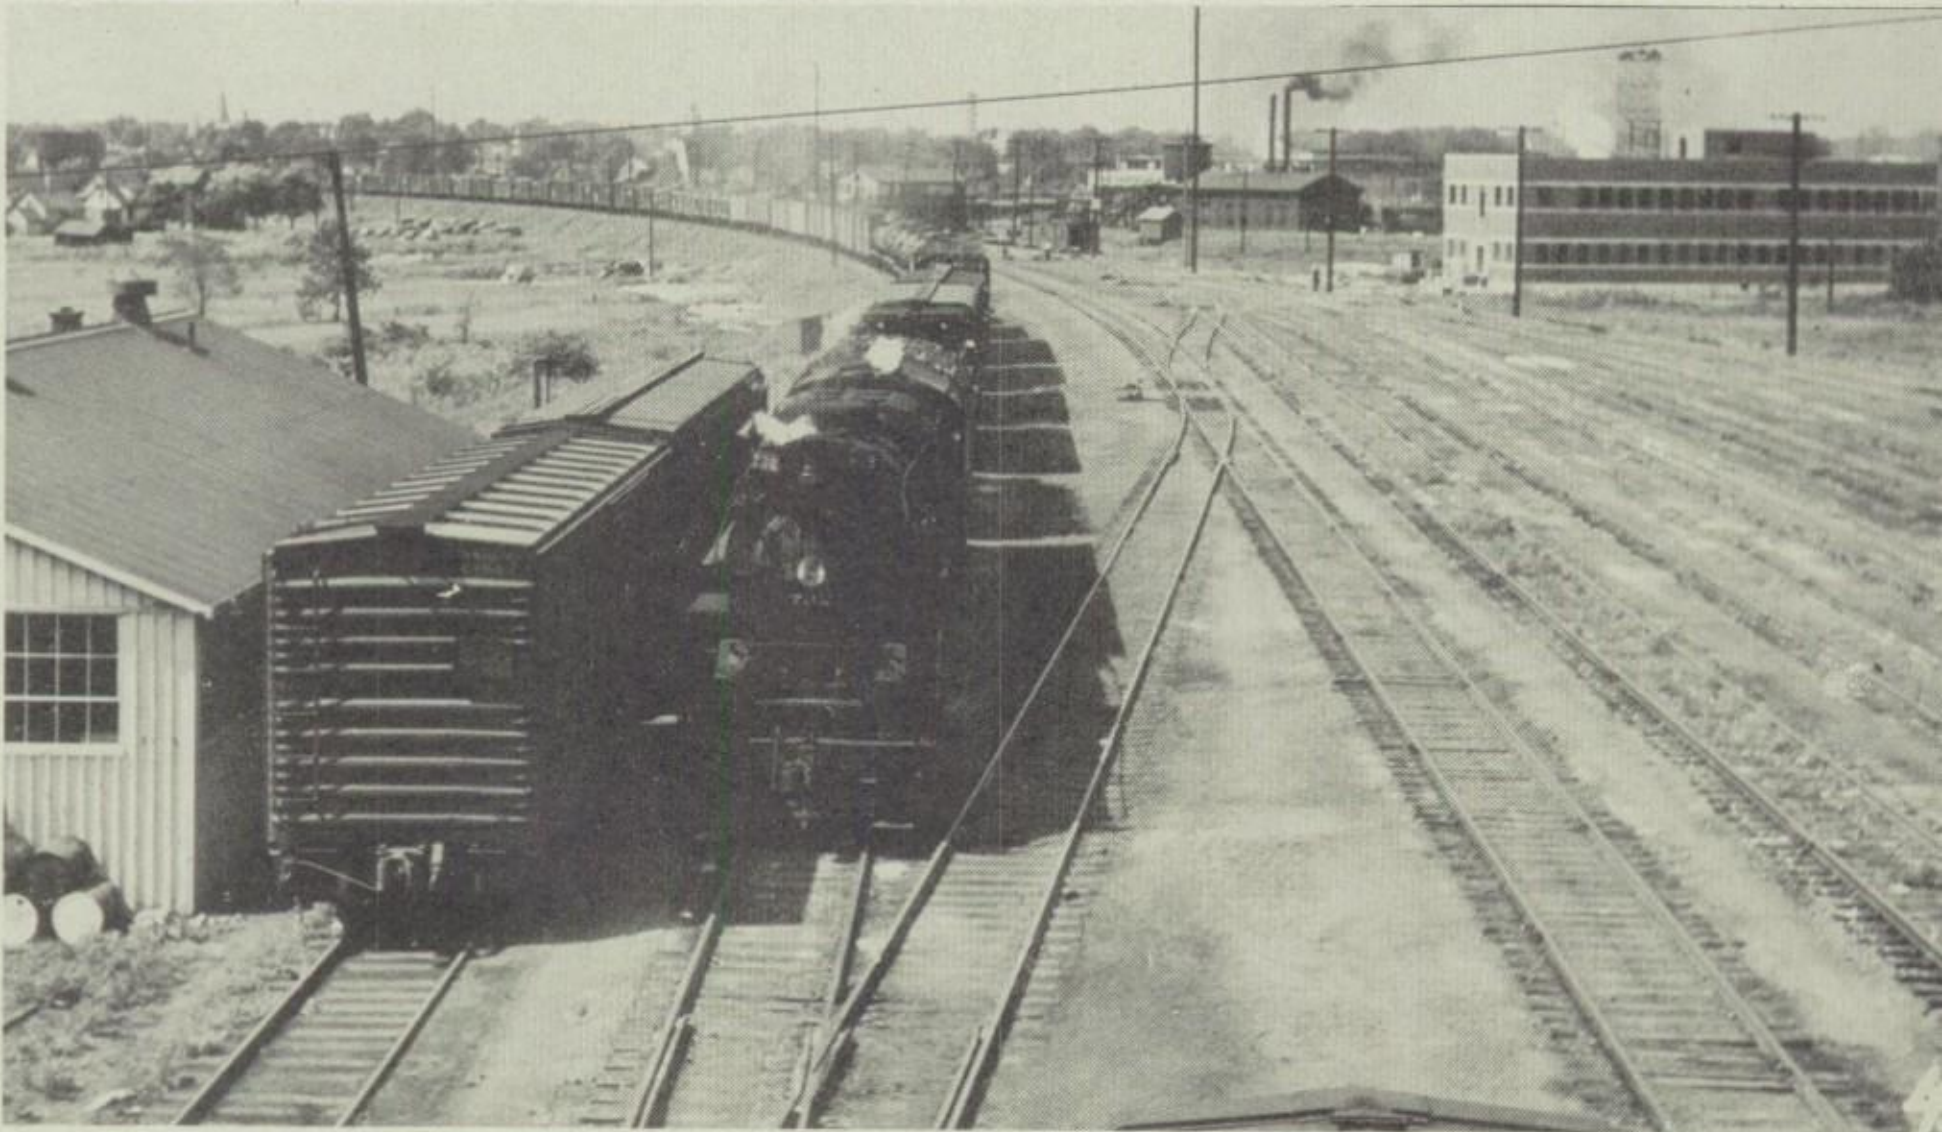

In addition, through Bellevue also go branches of the New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroads.

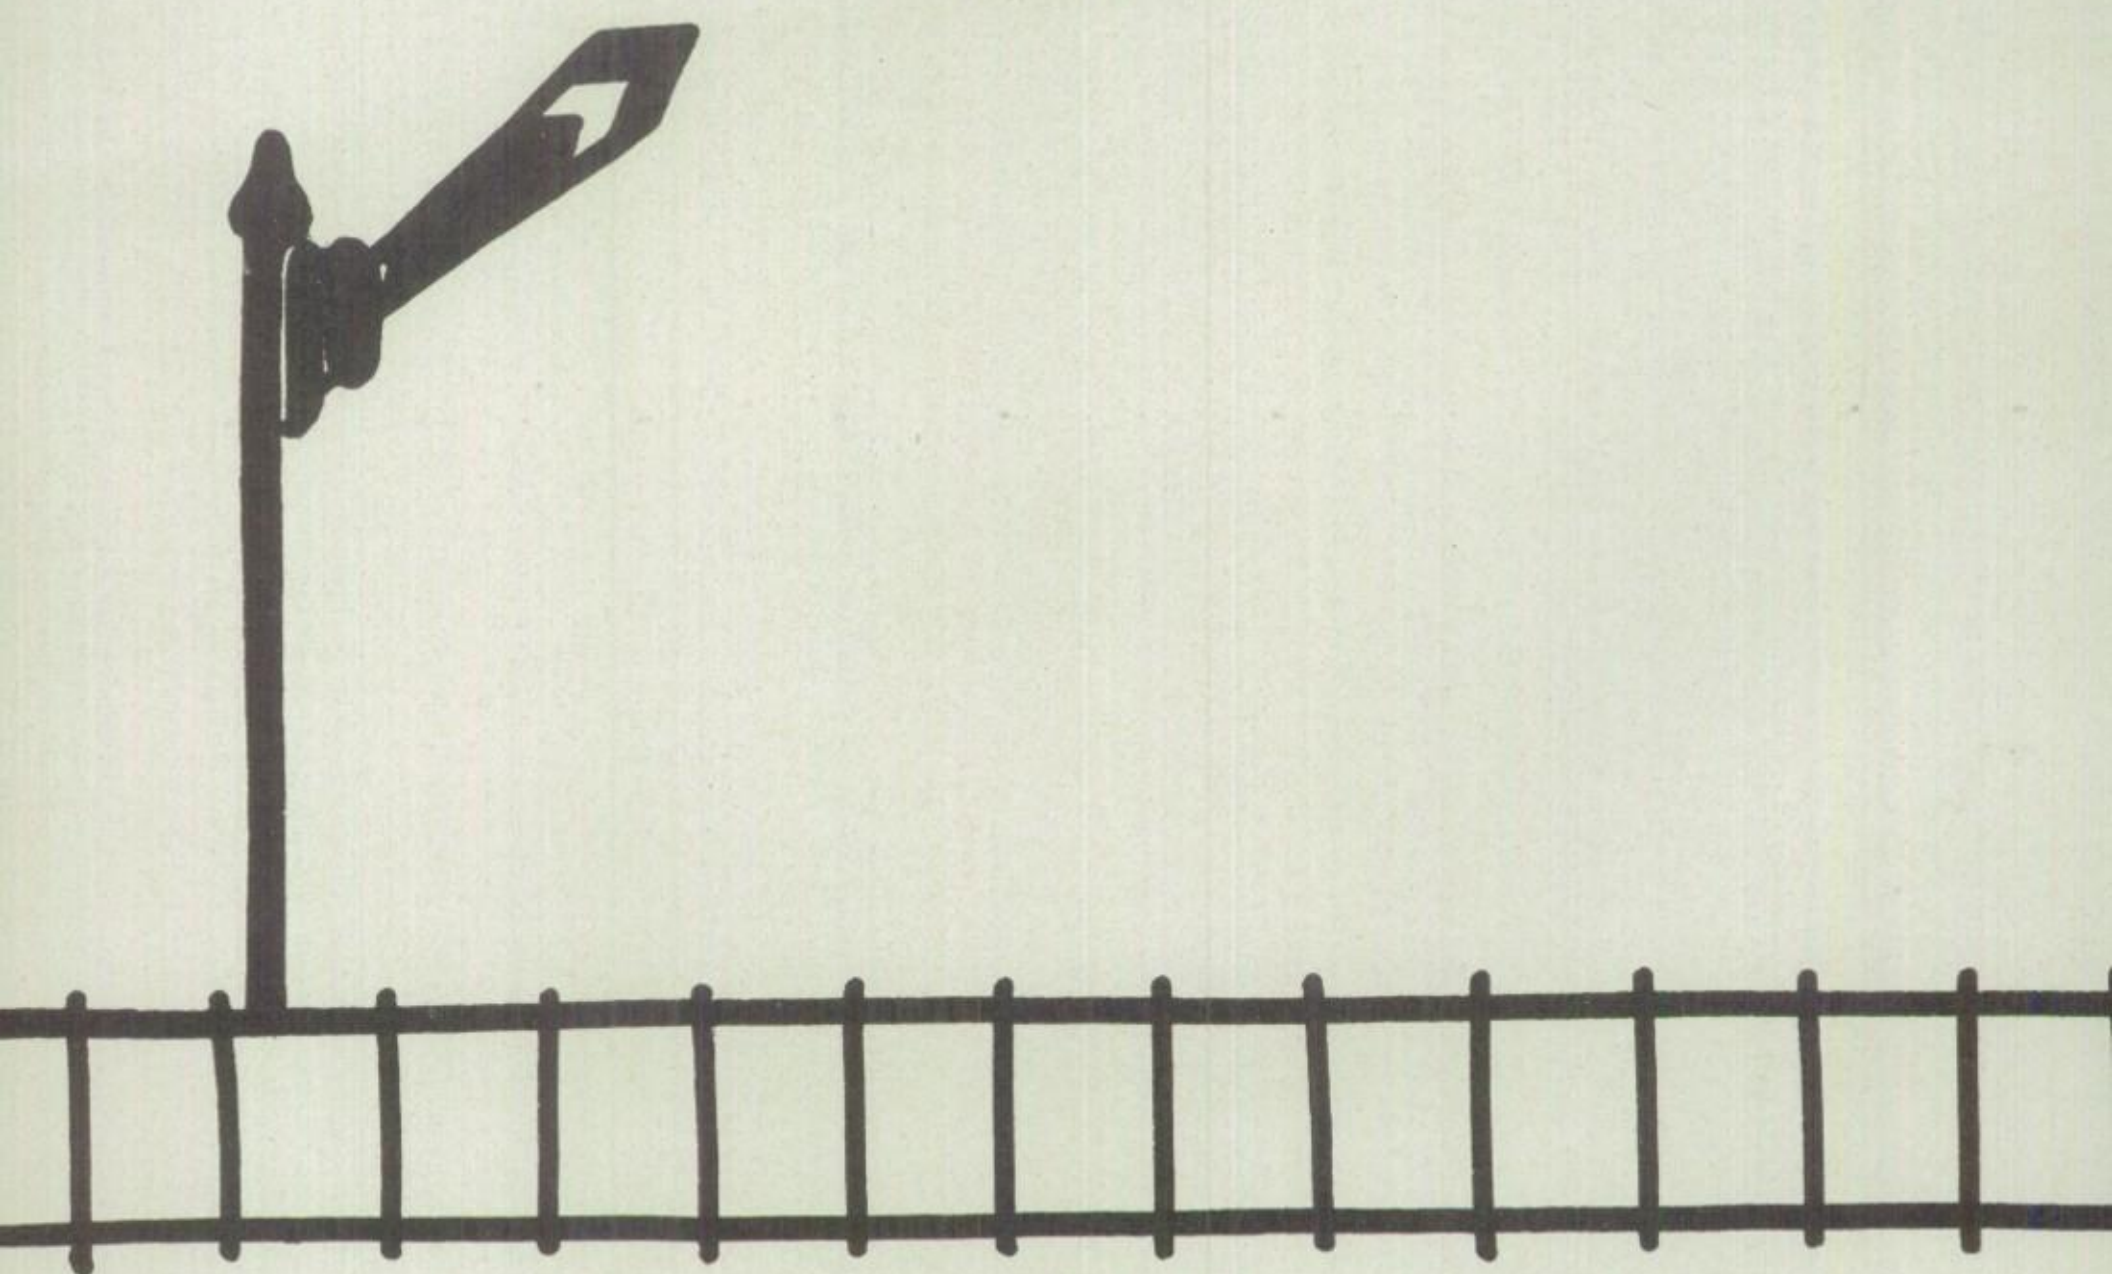

Egbert will feel at home during his visit in Bellevue!

1. Two of Egbert's cousins line up for a spin on the turntable and a work-out in the roundhouse.
2. Thriving metropolis? Yes! To the left of the Nickel Plate Yards is the soy bean plant. Two big industries side by side.
3. X-Bert, Egbert's lithesome Diesel nephew, is the pride of the clan with his Herculean strength and Stentorian horn.
4. Pulling into the yards after a long haul, Egbert's country cousin Freddy Freight is awed by the new office building on the right.
5. Chug-Bert, an older member of the family.

Now is the hour when we must say goodbye;
Soon we'll be leaving dear old Bellevue High.
When we are gone, we'll miss her stately walls,
For we are going where our duty calls.

Red rose, our flow'r; our colors, blue and white.
Blue is for loyalty; white, for truth and light.
Red rose for love and fellowship so dear.

Smooth Music

1947—DUFFY'S TAVERN

Small tables encircling the dance floor, soft candle light, efficient white-coated waiters, and a realistic bar supplying the class of '48 and their guests with all the cokes they desired, gave an authentic setting for "Duffy's Tavern." The many amusing telephone conversations between "Archie" (Dick Andrews) and "Duffy" (Dick LaSalle) announced the entertainment.

APRIL SHOWERS—1948

Caught in an "April Shower," were the class of '48 when they entered the gym, which was gaily decked with many brightly-colored umbrellas and a softly-gurgling fountain. A park bench and a picket fence surrounding the orchestra carried the Spring theme further. The entertainment hit proved to be those "darlings of the Forty-Niners," the Heart Throbs.

SEVENTH GRADE

STEAMING ALONG AT JUNIOR HIGH

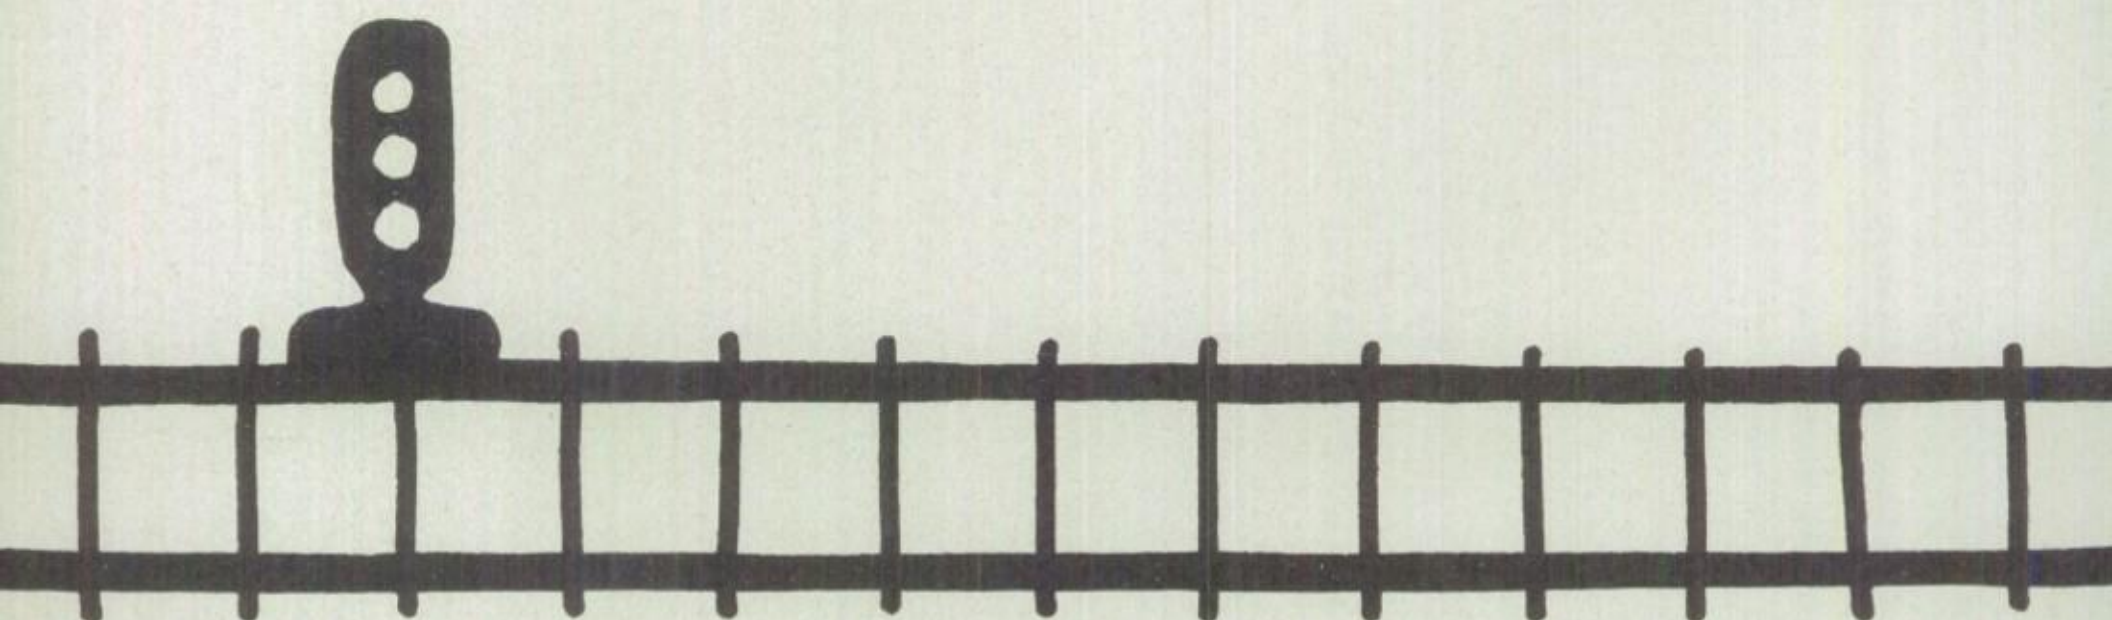

"Exciting events in the Junior High, too," says Egbert. There was the Junior High's own Music Festival when a picked chorus of seventh and eighth-grade students sang in four-part harmony, and large class choruses presented folk songs of many nations, all under the direction of Arch B. Krumm. A group of instrumental soloists included Roxy Strazuiso, cornet; Patsy Taylor, clarinet; Marilyn Heter, violin; Edward Monarchi, baritone horn; Marijane Warner, alto saxophone; and Jean Hall and Elinor Harper, piano.

Then those white mice! They grew strong and vigorous or pale and wan as diets changed under the direction of Mr. Tetirick. Egbert was amazed at how that mice family increased.

To finance the mice project, students in art classes made plaster busts of Lincoln which they sold in February.

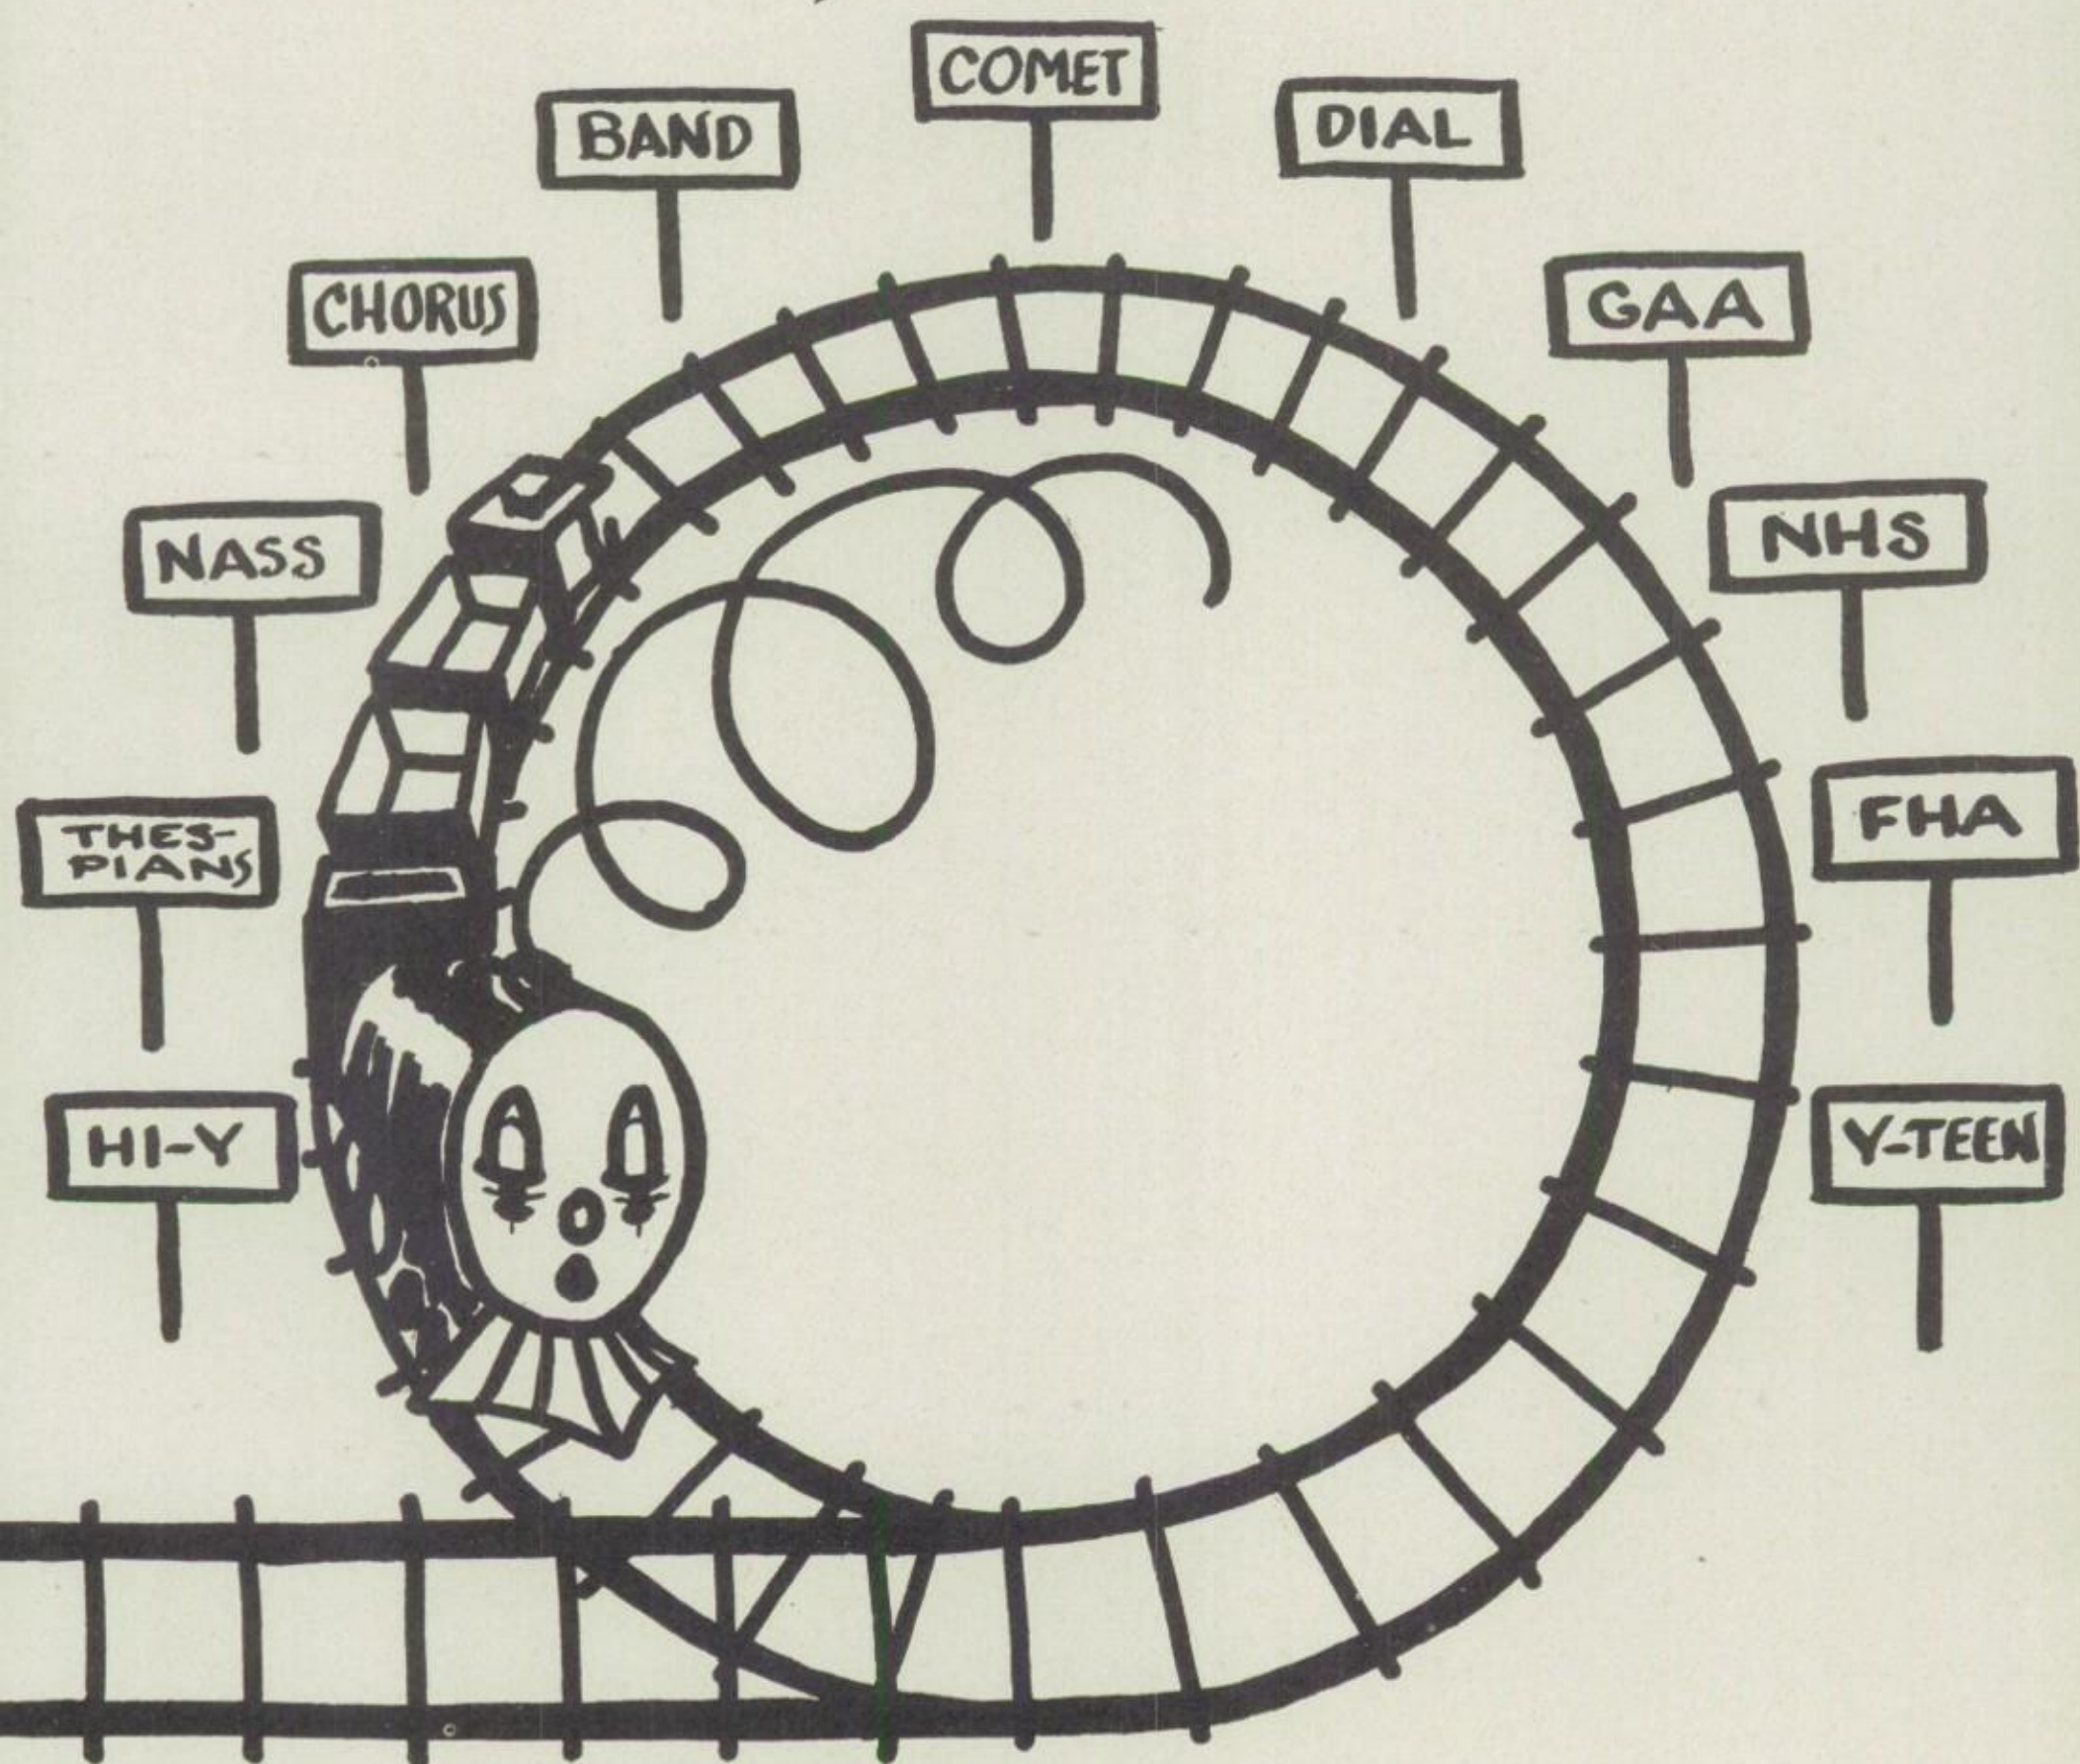

In fact as salesmen, those Junior High-ers are tops. Mrs. Glasgo's room won the first magazine sale campaign; and Miss Yingling's, the second.

Egbert was pleased, too, to find fourteen of his Junior High friends in the high-school Symphonic Band, as well as several in the Orchestra.

Student Council

Loud toots of approval come from Egbert Q. Engine, as he admires the accomplishments of the Student Council.

They supervised the election of class officers and cheerleaders, refereed the scholarship race, and sponsored the second annual Homecoming celebration. When time was set aside as Good Housekeeping Week, the council publicized it and awarded boxes of candy to the winning rooms, Miss Schachtele's freshmen and Miss Arnholt's sophomores. Members of the council served as a reception committee for home basketball games and sponsored three dances to raise funds for a proposed public address system.

Egbert had often carried newspapers from town to town, but the Dial was the first school paper he had seen in the process of publication. Have You Tried Our Senior Stand?

AT THE NEW QUARTERS; THE SENIOR STAND IS BIG BUSINESS. PLAIDS SWING AND SWAY AT THE COMET DANCE. MORE PLAIDS AS HANDS GET THE ADMISSION STAMP.

Something new! Egbert Q. Engine, Esquire, travels the halls of B.H.S.

This year's Comet Staff, with Carolyn Arnholt as editor, out of a carload of ideas came up with the 1948 Comet theme, "Egbert sees all, hears all, tells all."

The sales campaign started off with a big TEMOC hunt, climaxed by a surprise assembly in which TEMOC was revealed as the 1948 Comet. In homerooms, sales charts were used with trains and cars representing payments.

Knowing that students would like larger and more pictures, the staff cast aside tradition and voted to change the printing method and use the offset method.

But now more money was needed. Where there's a crowd, there's got to be food, and forty boys and girls of the Senior Stand were on hand at the home football games to provide the hungry spectators with all the hot dogs, potato chips, cokes, and ice cream bars they could eat. Candied apples, a new and permanent stand, and record sales all helped to make this year "tops" for the Comet Benefit Stand. Five student chairmen, Mary Krupp, Rosemary Ruffing, Angeline Recuperero, Marianne Meyers, and Edith Monarchi, helped Miss Arnholt manage the stand.

The stand profits, along with the money secured from the "TEMOC" dance, and the senior play, helped to finance the Comet.

Bellevue, Ohio
Comet Year 1948

Dear Louie Locomotive,

Those Y-Teens that I mentioned in one of my other letters are the busiest people I've seen in a long time.

They got up plenty of steam for meetings ranging from a "Hobo Party" at President Sue Lepley's farm to a talk on social hygiene by Miss Anne Falther. They held a panel discussion on manners with the Hi-Y boys and had fun at the Leap Year party in the study hall.

"Santa Claus's coming to town" with his Reindeer made the Y-Teen Christmas formal a success.

I was especially impressed by the Easter worship service the Y-Teens held at an assembly the last afternoon before spring vacation. In a setting of Easter lilies, palms, and candle light, the girls formed shadow pictures which told the Easter message while other Y-Teen members read Bible passages, or while the Prelude Choir sang anthems.

The club also added to its traditional activities an outing with the girls' fathers as well as a Mother-Daughter banquet and a slumber party for the senior girls.

The Service Committee had plenty of enthusiasm as they helped the Hi-Y boys collect bundles of clothes for the needy European children.

The Y-Teen refreshment stand (something like a water tower for locomotives) was really appreciated during "thriller-diller" basketball games. Profits from the sale of pop and ice cream made possible the purchase of new mirrors for the girls' restrooms. The money earned will also make it possible for many more girls than ever before to go to summer Y-Teen camps.

Here's the Hi-Y

For twenty years at B.H.S., Hi-Y clubs have tried "to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character."

The 1947-'48 program included discussions and talks by business men on the four planks of Hi-Y: clean speech, clean scholarship, clean athletics, and clean living. Dances after the football games, hayrides, a Christmas party, the annual Mother-Son Banquet, and the traditional outing at the Y Camp rounded out the social calendar.

A special thrill came to the officers in organizing a new chapter in Port Clinton.

Clever Homemakers - F. H. A.

"What beautiful steam!" whistled Egbert as he passed the foods laboratory where members of the Future Homemakers of America were preparing to serve a public Jitney supper. He followed the crowd in to the gymnasium, which had been converted into a dining room. There he listened to F.H.A. girls telling of their activities. One spoke of the night the club went Christmas caroling and of the evening they enjoyed a chili supper and program of slides. Another mentioned their plans to buy a new sewing machine and to prepare a sewing basket for the use of anyone in the school.

But alas for Egbert's ambitions to join the club! He found that only girls who were enrolled in home economics classes could become members.

Library Clubbers Paste and Mend; When Books are Due, a Fine They Send.

Egbert would give a month's supply of oil to read all the books in the B.H.S. library. Perhaps the twenty-four members of the Library Club could help him. Volunteering their services, club members worked in the school library during their free periods under the direction of Miss Elvina Steiner, school librarian. They were also energetic in raising money to help in the purchase of new book shelves.

Social activities included meetings at homes of members and a skating party at the reservoir.

At Christmas Time We Said Adieu With Christmas Plays, Not One, but Two

The Christmas play, Egbert discovered, is just one of the Yuletide traditions at B.H.S. Classrooms were decorated with red and green; the art classes made a huge sleigh and reindeer for the front hall; the Y-Teens held a Christmas formal; Latin classes caroled through the corridors. And at the Christmas assembly, December 19, music by the A Capella choir and the orchestra was followed by two plays presented by the speech classes under the direction of Miss Esther Schachtele.

"A Song Is Born" told the true story of the writing of the hymn, "Silent Night," while "What'll We Give Dad?" was an amusing satire.

Vocal Music Won Much Fame; Far and Wide Went Their Name

"They're going places!" whistles Egbert about the vocal music department under the direction of Arch B. Krumm. The purchase of maroon and white choir robes greatly enhanced the year's achievement of two invitations to sing at out-of-town meetings. Two vocal concerts and an enlargement of all the choruses helped to make important history for vocal music at B.H.S.

The coveted invitation to furnish music at the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association meeting at Toledo brought another invitation to the now-famous PRELUDE CHOIR to sing at Heidelberg College. These fifty picked girls practise two nights a week after school.

Eighty-seven strong, the A CAPELLA CHOIR made the trip to Upper Sandusky to sing in the League Chorus Festival. Wearing the new robes, the choir presented a program of religious spirituals and folk songs.

The TREBLE CLEF Club, composed of freshman and sophomore girls, acts as a "feeder" for the A Capella Choir.

The "baby" of the vocal music organizations is the BOYS' CHORUS. Any boy interested in singing is eligible to join this group whose main speciality is singing Negro spirituals.

As eager Egbert Q. makes his run through the various activities of Bellevue High School, he stops with a delighted puff of steam upon hearing strains of orchestral music. Although the B.H.S. orchestra practices only once a week, it presented an excellent program for the annual Spring Festival in Bellevue and for the Northern Ohio League Orchestra Festival at Galion. Then too, the orchestra is at its best for the school plays, as well as for Baccalaureate and Commencement when it helps give that certain air of superiority to the seniors. The group is directed by Mr. Carl O. Lenz.

SYMPHONIC BAND

Here we see Bellevue High School's fifty-two piece SYMPHONIC BAND. Directed by Nathan Rosenthal, daily rehearsals prepared the group for successful concerts in Bellevue and for the League Music Festivals. Members of this enthusiastic music organization are listed below. Those whose names are starred are also members of the MARCHING BAND which led the crowds to football games, and gave spectacular exhibitions at the half-time periods. The PEP BAND, which added to the excitement of basketball games, was led by Dick Hickman, in his second year as student director.

Scholarship

Bellevue High School has upheld its scholastic record this year as in the past.

Carolyn Arnholt, for the second consecutive year, was declared the vocabulary champ of B.H.S.

Up to the time the Comet went to press, Miss Buffington's senior homeroom had won the homeroom scholarship plaque every period. The names of fifteen students had appeared on the honor roll list every grade period. They are the following: Irene Brown, Virginia Colvin, Patricia Fox, Mary Hartman, Clarice Hire, Frances Kieser, Suzette Lepley, Doris Meyer, Jacqueline Richards; Junior: Pauline Swedersky; Sophomores: Donald Drewes, Willa Hogarth; Freshmen: Nancy Mitchell, Nancy Moore, Patricia Scagnetti.

In the State D.A.R. tests, Virginia Colvin, Clarice Hire, Carolyn Arnholt, and Marilyn King, seniors, competed. Clarice Hire won Bellevue honors and received a medal from the state.

A medal was awarded to Sharon Brooks for the best sophomore essay submitted in the 5th District of the American Legion contest. Her composition was entitled "How Can The United Nations Be Improved?"

Carolyn Arnholt and Pete Dietzel were selected from the National Honor Society to take an N.H.S. scholarship test.

On February 7, 1948, a general scholarship test was issued to seniors ranking in the upper 50 percentile. Honorable mention in Huron County was received by Carolyn Arnholt, Pete Dietzel, Clarice Hire, William Drewes, Arthur Eberly, and Tom Gruss.

As a result of preliminary scholarship tests a number of students won places on the team picked to represent the school in the District State Scholarship tests, held at Heidelberg College, May 1. The team consists of Eileen Ball, Barbara VonderEmbse, Rita Houck, Ronald Reitz, James Tibboles, Dennis Irons, Nancy Mitchell, Robert Holstein, Bob Kaiser, Nancy Moore, Pat Scagnetti, Shirley Mizer, Martha Woodard, Betty Bauman, Joann White, Harold Colvin, Willa Hogarth, Joanne

Egbert Goes To The Games

Football

The Bellevue Redmen completed one of the best football seasons in the school's history, with a record of eight wins and one loss. Coach Sampson's eleven chalked up the best defensive and offensive record since 1914 by scoring 182 points to the opponent's 38. The gridgers placed second in the Northern Ohio League, next to Upper Sandusky, the Redmen's only conqueror.

Coach Kenny Sampson successfully completed his second year as head football coach of the Redmen. He was assisted by Joe Ayers, the line coach, and by Del Johnson, who led the Reserves and did the scouting.

THE SEASON'S GAMES

Bellevue, 6—Fremont St. Joe, 0

On September 12 Egbert got up steam and made his first excursion down to Harmon to see the Redmen open their 1947 football season by defeating a fast Fremont St. Joe team, in an evenly-matched game 6 to 0. Halfback Ed. Soldano crashed over for the initial touchdown for the Redmen.

Bellevue, 8—Upper Sandusky, 13

The first long run for Egbert and the team was on September 19 when the Redmen experienced their first and only loss of the season, to a rugged Upper Sandusky squad, 13 to 8. Captain Jack Gabel and Don Baldwin accounted for the Redmen scores.

Bellevue, 6—Crestline, 0

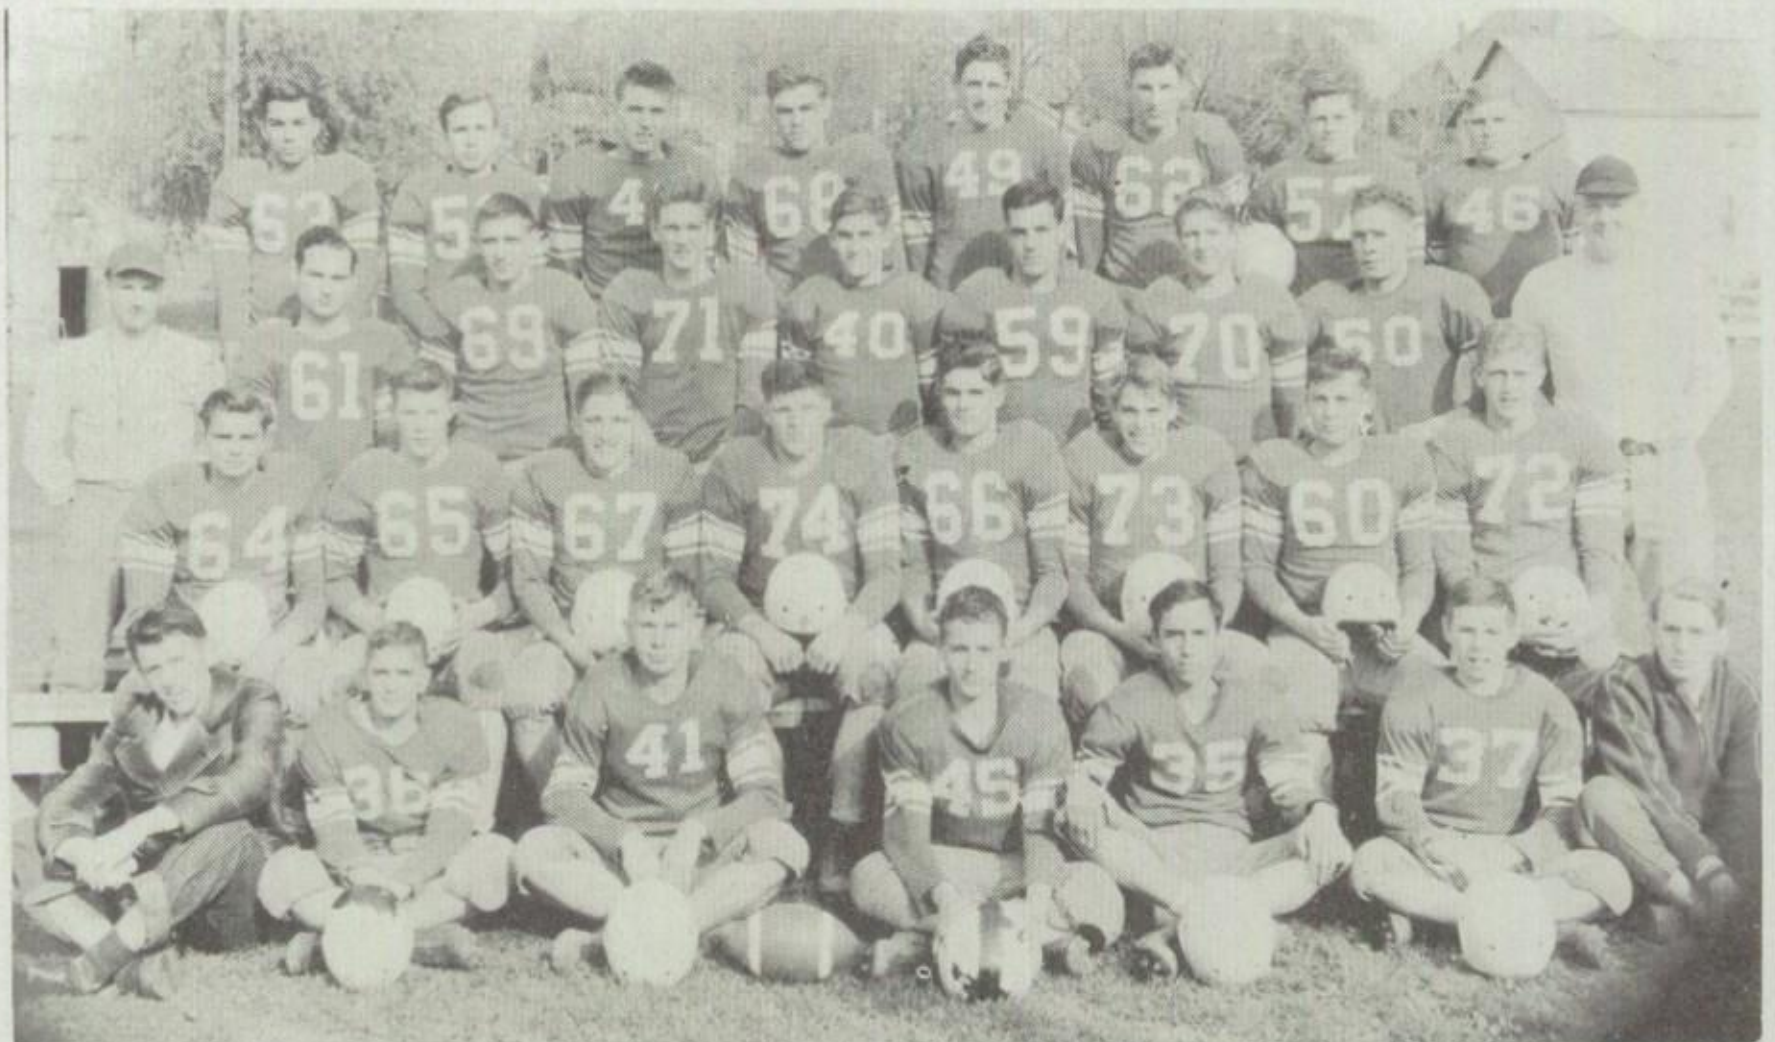

The week following their defeat, the Redmen brought home their second victory by spilling Crestline, 6 to 0. Captain Jack Gabel scored the Redmen touchdown on a pass from brother Jim.

Football

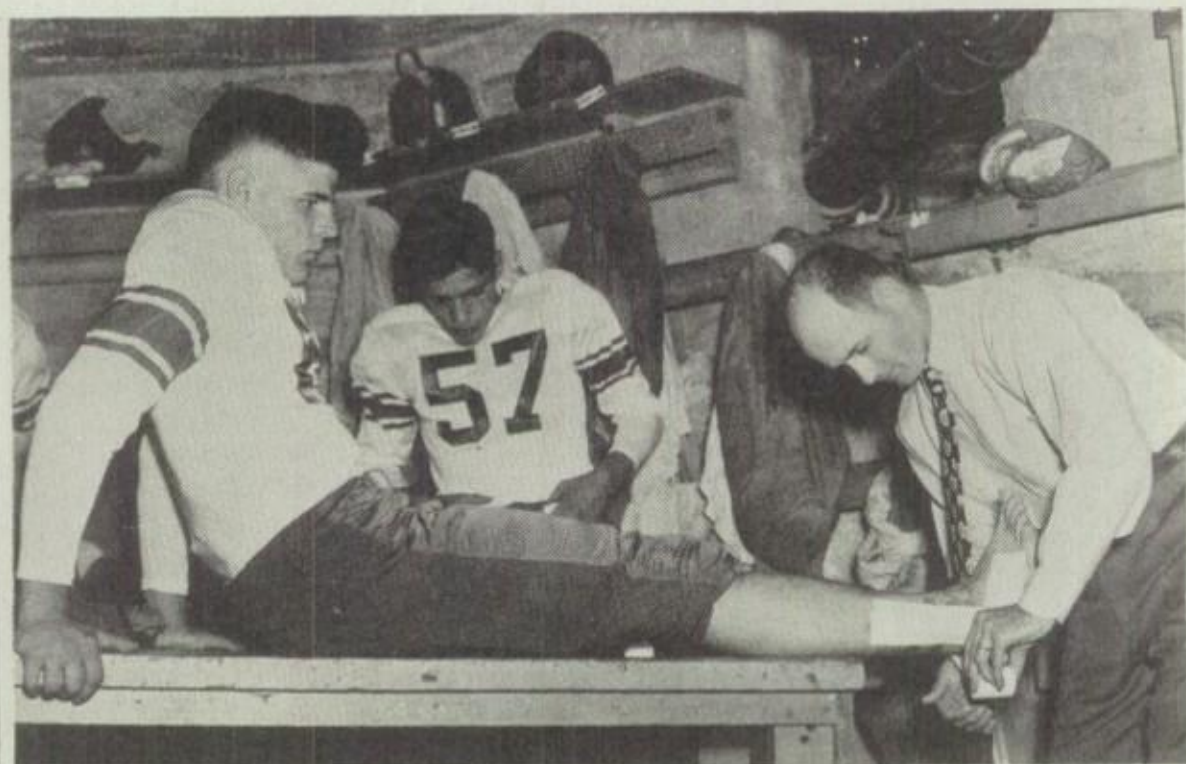

JOHN GABEL, captain and fullback—"Big Jack" was the leading scorer for the Redmen with a season's total of 74 points. Doing his best job in the Bucyrus and Norwalk games, he piled up 3 and 2 touchdowns respectively. He was also named All-N.O.L. and Northwestern Ohio fullback.

RAYMOND BATTELLINE, halfback—Although out for football for the first time, Ray was a fine man on defense and offense and proved to be a stand-out in the thrilling St. Joe game.

JIM DIDION, tackle—"Boner" was one of the best defensive tackles in the league, giving the opposing line a rugged time every minute he played.

Senior Lettermen

PETER DIETZEL, guard—Pete was a fine, hard-working guard and always played well when he was asked.

BILL GOHLIKE, guard—In his second year as first-string guard "Goke" kept on opening up the holes and was in on most of the tackles.

JIM GABEL, quarterback—Switching from guard to quarterback this year "Little Jim" did an exceptional job as field general of the team as well as being a fine passer and runner. Jim turned in one of his best performances in the Willard game by crashing over two T.D.'s.

VERNON KONST, center—"Vermin" was a fine offensive center and played good defense when called upon.

DICK LASALLE, tackle—"Fuzz" was a fine all-around tackle being both a good blocker and tackler doing his best in the Norwalk game.

TED NYERGES, halfback—"Peppy" supplied the speed and spirit to the backfield doing his best in the Shelby game with a long punt return.

ALVIN SHELLEY, guard—"Pinky" was a spunky little guard who kept the holes open on offense and plugged on defense. Alvie was a fine tackler as well as a blocker doing his best in the Port Clinton game.

DEAN TODD, end—carrying his third major letter "Blondie" was a pass-snatching expert doing his best blocking and tackling in the St. Joe game.

TOM GRUSS, Manager—"T.A." had the thankless job of manager in charge of the medicine kit and providing the necessary needs for the players.

JIM SMITH, Manager—"Smitty" charted all the plays at the games and kept the field well-lined.

Two juniors receiving major letters are Harry Coe, tackle, and Ed Soldano, halfback, next years co-captains. Other junior winners of major "B's" are Milt Bruckner, end; Tom Beard, tackle; Jim Kovacs, center; Ted Fox, end; Don Yingling, guard; and Jim Lepley, quarterback. Homecoming

The Redheads and the Redmen ruled supreme at the Homecoming game October 23, when Queen Suzette Lepley, with her two red-headed sisters among her royal court, was crowned by Captain Jack Gabel as the second football queen of B.H.S.

The attendants, who carried white mums, were Jane Frederick, and Carolyn Arnholt, seniors; Barbara Gross, junior; Ruth Briebl, sophomore; and Marilyn Lepley, freshman.

Her majesty's escort was Tom Gruss; the attendants were escorted by Gene Moyer, Bob Clements, seniors; Norbert Brown, junior; Melvin Koch, sophomore; and Glen Hire, freshman.

After riding onto the field in three sleek convertibles, the queen's court walked through an archway formed by the four majorettes. Then the golden crown was taken from the satin pillow held by Johnny Maike, Pike first grader, and placed upon her head. Queen Sue's sister Kitty, first grader at St. Mary's, handed her a large bouquet of mums.

At the "Y" dance afterwards, the Queen and her attendants appeared in formal gowns.

Basketball

Under the guidance of Coach Kenny Sampson the Bellevue Redmen Basketeers took the N.O.L. 1948 Championship and were runners-up in the district tournament at Sandusky. The Redmen in regular season and tournament games totaled 15 wins against 7 losses and 1003 points against the opponents' 977.

Jan. 13—This was a bad evening for the Redmen, for the Mansfield Tigers romped to victory, 50-34, on their home court. The Redmen were definitely off.

Jan. 16—The Redmen chalked up their fourth N.O.L. victory at Galion, with Milt Bruckner leading the crusade with 14 points.

Mar. 12—In the tourney finals the Mansfield Madison Rams ran over the Redmen, 49-31, in a blistering second-quarter scoring spree. Throughout the game the Redmen were unable to penetrate the Rams' defense or stop their offense. Milt Bruckner led the Redmen attack with 9 points. The 1948 District Runners-Up Trophy was added to the large collection at B.H.S.

He was also named on the all-tournament team and also all-league center and captain.

Bellevue, 14—Norwalk, 0

Celebrating Dad's Night on October 10, the power-packed Redmen defeated the Norwalk Raiders, 14 to 0. With the passing attack stopped cold, Jack Gabel smashed over for both tallies, with Jim Lepley converting.

Bellevue, 12—Shelby, 7

The Redmen chalked up their fourth N.O. L. victory in five starts by whipping the Shelby Whippets. It was a hard-fought game with both teams evenly matched, but Jack Gabel kept his scoring spree by cracking over for both of the Redmen's touchdowns.

Bellevue, 44—Galion, 0

The Redmen ran roughshod over the Galion squad before a capacity Homecoming crowd, 44 to 0. Jack Gabel, Baldwin, Bruckner, Todd, Morgan, Nyerges, and Ed Soldano accounted for the Redmen scores.

Bellevue, 27—Bucyrus, 6

The Redmen took their sixth N.O.L. victory on November 2, by defeating the Bucyrus Redmen, 27-6. Traveling principally on the ground, the Redmen kept on the winning train as Jack Gabel crashed over for three of the touchdowns.

Boys' Intramurals

Nearly every other noon as Egbert chugged into B.H.S., he watched the Boys' Intramurals being played off under the direction of Coach Del Johnson and Student Director Ted Buck. In addition, all boys in gymnasium classes took part in the annual Intramural Sports Day, April 13.

The homerooms were divided into two leagues this year. The junior and senior homerooms were in the National League with the sophomores and freshmen in the American.

The League winners were then pitted against each other. The National Leaguers were finalists in every contest except all-school basketball, when the unexpected happened and each of the seeded National teams was overthrown. Room 126 of the American League took the basketball honors.

The winners of intramural tournament are listed on the following pages with the inter-league finalists pictured.

Several of the Bellevue G.A.A. members also attended play days in Fremont and Sandusky and the annual Northwestern Sports day at Bowling Green University.

The highest athletic honor a girl can receive in B.H.S. is the girls' white "B". Fourteen senior members of the G.A.A. have earned the necessary 250 points in girls' intramurals and can wear the coveted letter. D. SHELLEY, P. FOX, J. ZEHNER, F. KIESER, S. LEPLEY, C.

Of these Ocker's soccer team, the Pointers, were champions: S. Ocker, captain, A. Young, R. Houck, B. Bauman, J. Siesel, N. Decker, M. Meyers, C. Lamb, B. MacManus.

M. Metzger, M. Sherman, M. Siesel, A. Phillips.
